

Production brief

Eight hours of recording across three locations. Request for an itemised quotation.

PREPARED FOR

Kalkulus Media

BY

Consult for Africa, for MedLYFE Wellness and Longevity Centre

STATUS

Request for quotation. Please invoice against the line items in section seven.

1. What we are asking for

A single production day in Lagos, filming Dr Chinwe Kpaduwa, a United States board certified plastic surgeon, for a library of educational video for MedLYFE Wellness and Longevity Centre.

Eight hours of recording across three locations and five lighting setups, followed by post-production into roughly fifty finished pieces. This is a talking-head and conversational shoot. There is no action, no crowd, no procedure and no patient.

We would like an itemised quotation, set out against the lines in section seven, so that pre-production, the shoot day and post-production can be considered separately.

2. Dates

Preferred shoot date	To be confirmed on acceptance. We are working to a window and will fix the date with you within forty eight hours of your quotation
Recce	The week before the shoot
First cuts	Ten working days from the shoot
Final delivery	Twenty working days from the shoot

If your availability is the binding constraint on the date, say so in your reply and we will work to it.

3. Locations and setups

Three locations. Two of them carry two setups each, which is what keeps this to a single day.

	Location	Setups
A	A private medical clinic, Lagos	Two. A consultation room, filmed as a real room in daylight, and a treatment room, filmed clinically with equipment visible
B	A studio	One. A dark portrait setup, near black ground, single source, matching an existing portrait look we will share
C	A private interior with an exterior terrace or entrance	Two. A warm daylight interior for seated conversation, and an exterior in golden hour

All locations are provided and cleared by us. Travel between A, B and C is within Lagos and we will confirm the addresses at the recce.

4. Who is on camera

Principal	Dr Chinwe Kpaduwa, for the full day
Second contributor	One clinician, for approximately two hours in the afternoon, for two seated two-hander conversations
Anybody else	Nobody. No patients, no models, no extras

5. Deliverables

	Quantity	Specification
Long-form films	6 to 8	Four to eight minutes each. 16:9, graded, mixed, with a lower third and an end card
Short films	35 to 45	Thirty to ninety seconds each. Delivered in both 9:16 and 4:5, with burned-in captions on every version
B-roll	A full set	Graded, cut and delivered as selects, sufficient to cover all of the above
Stills	40 or more	Retouched, delivered at full resolution and web resolution, colour and black and white
Masters	All of it	Every rush, in full, delivered on physical media

Captions must be burned in rather than supplied as a sidecar file, because a large share of this will be viewed with the sound off and forwarded on WhatsApp.

Deliver the shorts named to a convention we will give you, so they can be filed and sent individually. A folder of forty files called final_v3 is of no use to the person who has to send one of them to one patient.

6. What we provide, and what we ask you to provide

We provide. All locations, cleared and available. Both contributors. Every script, finalised and approved, delivered to you no later than three working days before the shoot. The prompter content. Brand assets, fonts and the two colour palettes. Wardrobe. A producer on set for the full day who can make decisions.

We ask you to provide. Director and crew, cameras and lenses, lighting and grip, sound, a teleprompter and an operator, stills photography, and all post-production including grade, sound mix, captioning, versioning and delivery.

Music. Please quote for commercially cleared music, or for original composition. Do not use library tracks whose licence does not cover commercial use by a healthcare business in Nigeria, including paid social.

7. Please quote against these lines

Set your invoice out this way so we can read it, compare it and approve parts of it independently.

Line
7.1	Pre-production: recce, scheduling, call sheet, production management
7.2	Shoot day: crew, itemised by role
7.3	Shoot day: equipment, itemised, including the teleprompter
7.4	Hair and makeup
7.5	Stills photography and retouching
7.6	Post: long-form edits, per film
7.7	Post: short-form edits, per film, and the cost per additional short beyond the quoted volume
7.8	Post: grade, sound mix, captioning and versioning
7.9	Music licensing or composition

Line
7.10	Delivery, transcoding and physical archive
7.11	Travel, logistics and contingency, stated separately

Please also state your payment terms, what you require on acceptance, and the cost of a half day pick-up shoot should we need one.

The per-short rate at 7.7 matters to us. If the day goes well we will want more of them, and we would rather agree the rate now than negotiate it afterwards.

8. Rights

This is a condition rather than a preference, so please price it in rather than around it.

All rights in all material, including the rushes, assign to the client on final payment, with unlimited use in all media worldwide and in perpetuity. We require delivery of every master. Crew and contributors are to be engaged on terms consistent with that assignment.

You are welcome to use the finished work in your own portfolio and showreel, and we will credit you where there is a credit to give.

9. Conditions on set

Three things will be true on the day, and they affect the call sheet rather than the quotation. We set them out so nothing is planned that cannot be used.

No patients, and no patient images of any kind. Nobody who could be read as a patient appears in any frame. No before and after material will be filmed, supplied or used.

No treatment is performed on camera, on anybody. The treatment room setup is equipment, environment and hands only, using a colleague rather than a patient.

No product brand names are spoken. Our scripts already handle this. If a brand name is said in error, please flag it to the producer on the day so the line can be retaken rather than discovered in the edit.

These are regulatory requirements on our side, not stylistic ones.

10. What we would like back

An itemised quotation against section seven, your earliest available dates, and confirmation that section eight is acceptable.

Please reply to Consult for Africa at hello@consultforafrica.com, or on +234 913 813 8553.

We would be glad to walk you through the shot list before you price it, if that would make the quotation more accurate.