Ilé

Care for the last years of life in Lagos, built for families abroad.

$500k for 30%
Pre-seed. $1.7m post-money.

Concierge geriatric care, care at home, rehabilitation, residential and palliative care, and mortuary services, on one record.

THE PROBLEM

Ngozi lives in London. Her mother lives alone in Lekki. When her mother falls, Ngozi hires a carer she never meets. After a hip operation there is no one to help her walk again. The homes Ngozi finds have no nurse at night. At the end, a cousin manages the pain. When she dies, the hospital mortuary is full. Ngozi pays for all of it, in pieces, and sees none of it.

THE GAP

Ageing at home	No vetted carers, no proof the visit happened
Post hospital stay	Too few step-down beds, no rehabilitation at home
Needing care	No nursing-grade residence with a nurse at night
The last months	No hospice outside cancer care
After death	No mortuary between Lagos Island and Epe

THE MARKET

Abroad, five companies earn $17bn a year from these stages; buyers pay 12 to 13 times EBITDA. Nigeria has 14.8m people aged 60 and over and 20m+ abroad who sent home $21.8bn in 2025. Premium end-of-life care in Lagos alone is worth ₦109bn a year. Year five needs 3% of it.

OUR PROMISE

- You will know who is in your mother's house, and that the visit happened
- A nurse will be awake every night
- Her pain will be managed, and someone will be with her
- She will be kept with dignity until you are home
