The opening film

Ten minutes on ageing, to open AGELESS

FOR Kakulus Media
FROM Opeoluwa, Communications Lead, Medbury Healthcare Group
DATE Tuesday 13 October 2026

In short

- A ten minute film on ageing that opens AGELESS at 6:30pm on Wednesday 21 October at Capital Club, Lagos. Dr Ajelabi speaks straight after it, at 6:40.
- It is built from licensed stock footage and stills under a voiceover, with live footage shot at the MedLYFE centre in Lekki cut through it.
- Its job is to put the room in the right frame: what changes as we age, and what medicine can now do about it. It informs and moves. It does not sell.
- Final file by Monday 19 October. Technical check at Capital Club on Tuesday 20 October.
- Please reply by Wednesday 14 October with whether you can deliver and your quote.

The references

Dr Itunu Akinware chose these two films for the kind of film she wants.

Reference	What to take from it
https://youtu.be/hfQo8HYmmWQ The greatest revolution in the history of medicine, Andrew Steele, Big Think	The argument: ageing is something medicine can now study, measure and act on, explained plainly, with pictures that carry the idea
https://youtu.be/2Ka3a3X5RRw UN Decade of Healthy Ageing, Adding Life to Years	The feeling: older people living full lives, the warmth, and the shift from more years to better years

Treat them as tone and treatment, not a script.

The shape of the film

A suggested structure. The voiceover script is yours to write from it, and Dr Akinware approves the script before it is recorded.

Time	Chapter	What it covers
0:00 to 1:30	We are living longer	People everywhere, Nigerians included, are living longer than their grandparents. Many of the extra years are spent unwell. The gap between lifespan and healthspan
1:30 to 4:30	What changes	Energy, strength, sleep, weight, skin, mood and recovery. A short sequence on each, in everyday Lagos life
4:30 to 6:30	Why it happens	What science now understands about ageing, in plain language, in the manner of the first reference
6:30 to 8:30	What can be done	Measure first, then act. This is where the live footage from the centre carries the picture
8:30 to 10:00	Adding life to years	Back to people. Ends on the thought that the good years can be lengthened, and hands the room to Dr Ajelabi

The three materials

Material	What we need
Stock footage and stills	Commercially licensed. Predominantly Black and African people, in settings that could be Lagos. No Western clinic interiors that read as foreign. Licences supplied with delivery
Voiceover	A Nigerian voice, warm and unhurried. Send two or three samples by Thursday 15 October so Dr Akinware can choose
Live footage	Half a day at the MedLYFE centre, Lekki: the diagnostics bench, an analyser, readouts on a screen, the infusion room in daylight, the team at work. Hands and backs of heads only for staff. This footage is shared with the MedLYFE Experience film, briefed separately

What must not be in it

- No patients. Nobody who could be read as a patient appears in any frame.
- No before and after images.
- No drug or product brand names.
- No claim of a result, a number of years gained, or a cure.
- Every statistic in the voiceover is sourced, and the source is listed with the script.

Timeline

Reply with your quote	Wednesday 14 October
Voiceover samples and script outline	Thursday 15 October
Script approved, voiceover recorded	Friday 16 October
Live shoot at the centre	Thursday 15 or Friday 16 October
First cut	Saturday 17 October
Notes back to you	Sunday 18 October
Final file	Monday 19 October
Technical check at Capital Club	Tuesday 20 October

Deliverables

Master	1920 x 1080, H.264, 25fps, stereo, loudness normalised, for projection
Captioned version	The same master with burned-in captions, for use after the evening
Archive	Project file, rushes and stock licences on one drive

Please quote against these lines

1	Script and research
2	Voiceover artist and recording
3	Stock footage licences
4	Stock stills licences
5	Live shoot: crew and equipment, half day
6	Edit, to two rounds of notes
7	Motion graphics and titles
8	Grade, sound design and mix
9	Music licence
10	Captions and delivery

Invoice to Medbury Healthcare Group, attention Opeoluwa, Communications Lead.

Rights

Full, perpetual, worldwide, in every medium, to Medbury Healthcare Group. Stock and music licensed on terms that allow commercial use in Nigeria, including online.